Georgia Indian Depredations Claims, 1836-1837

Contributed by Robert S. Davis, Jr., Director
Family & Regional History Program
Wallace State College
Hanceville, AL 35077-2000

Beginning with the 1821 Treaty of Indian Springs, Georgians filed suit to be paid damages for Creek Indian raids. The funds to pay these claims came from treaty monies owed to the Creeks from land sessions to the United States. Some of these claims went back to the American Revolution and many claims were suspect if not outright frauds. Almost all that survives of these records are found indexed in a set of typescripts at the Georgia Department of Archives and History known as "The Indian Depredations". We have these typescripts on microfilm at Wallace State College. The names and much of the information from these claims is abstracted in Charlton Thaxton, Georgia Indian Depredations Claims (1990).

Not included in these typescripts, however, were the claims filed by Georgians and Alabamians for damage allegedly committed in the Creek and Seminole Indian raids of 1836. These claim files were in the Bureau of Indian Affairs for more than fifty years before, in 1895, the United States Court of Claims ruled that the Creeks no longer possessed the liability (Mary A. Garrison et al vs. The United States and the Creek Indians). The fate of the claim files, and presumably the claims filed by the heirs of original claimants, remains unknown. Repeated searches of the records of the National Archives in Washington, DC failed to locate the claims. A few of the claims may be in the files of the United States Court of Claims. See Constance Potter and Jean West, "Indian Depredation Cases Under the Acts of 1891 and 1915," Proloque: Quarterly of the National Archives 22 (1990): 396-99.

For more on Indian Depredations claims in general see Larry C. Skogen, "The Bittersweet Reality of Indian Depredation Cases," Proloque: Quarterly of the National Archives 24 (1992): 290-96.

Reproduced below is a list of the Georgia claims of 1836 from House Documents 127, 25th Congress, 2nd Session, series 326. The information is given as name; Georgia county; amount claimed; and amount accepted by the government, if any.

Hatcher & McGehee Negro Book

Transcribed by Callie B. McGinnis

The Hatcher & McGehee Negro Book is part of the Chattahoochee Valley Historical Collections in the Columbus College Archives. It was donated to the Archives by Mrs. Lenora Woodall Nilan. The book is a record of the purchase and sale of slaves from 1858 to 1860 by Hatcher & McGehee, one of three slave trading companies that operated in Columbus. The company was run by Samuel J. Hatcher, a native of Virginia, and Allen Clements McGehee, a native of Jones County, Georgia. According to the 1860 Columbus City Directory, the other two "slave depots" were Harrison & Pitts and S. Ogletree.
The following transcript is of pages 14-27 of the slave book. The entries begin at some point in 1859 before the month of September. The transcription for earlier pages (i.e., 2-13) of the sales records were published in the last issue of Muscogiana. In addition to the record of sales, the book does contain other information--much regarding the hiring out and maintenance of slaves. This miscellaneous information, in the final section of the book, is sometimes illegible. However, a transcription of this last section may be attempted at a later time.

Statistics of the State of Georgia - Talbot County

The following is taken from White, George, Statistics of the State of Georgia...Savannah: W. Thorne Williams, 1849. A section such as this is included for each Georgia county in existence at that time. Other counties will be featured in future issues of Muscogiana.

Boundaries, Extent.--Talbot county is bounded N. by Meriwether, N. E. by Upson, E. by Crawford, S. by Marion and Macon, and W. by Harris. Laid out in 1827. Length 25 miles, breadth, 18 miles. Containing 450 square miles.

Post Offices.--Bluff Spring, Talbotton, Carsonville, Centre, Daviston, Pine Hill, Pleasant Hill, Prattsburg, Quito, Holt's Shop, Mount Pleasant.

Population, Taxes, Representation.--In 1845, the population was 14, 192; of these 8,016 were whites, and 6,176 blacks. State tax for 1848, $5,278.98 cents. Sends two representatives to the Legislature.

Rivers, Creeks.--The Flint river is the main stream. The water-courses of less magnitude are Patsiliga, Hachasofkee, Lazer, Beaver creek, &c.

Mountains.--The Oak mountains are in the northern part of the county.

Towns.--Talbotton, the seat of justice, is situated on the waters of Lazer Creek. It is a neat town, 93 miles west of Milledgeville, 25 from Greeneville, 23 from Thomaston, 32 from Columbus, and 35 from LaGrange. Talbotton was incorporated and made the county site in 1828. The situation is high and salubrious. Its public buildings consist of a court-house, jail, Masonic hall, two academies, one for males and one for females; and three churches, Methodist, Baptist, and Episcopal. The court-house is of brick, and is large and well arranged. The Methodist and Baptist churches are large and handsome buildings. The Episcopal church has been recently erected. It is a Gothic building, in perfect keeping throughout. It is an ornament to the town, and is perhaps the most perfect piece of Gothic architecture in the State. The population of Talbotton is about 1,500. It has seven or eight good stores. The Collingsworth Institute is within a mile of the town.

Mills.--Saw-mills, 15; grist-mills, 25.

Religious Sects.--Missionary, Anti-Missionary and Freewill Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians, and Episcopalians.

Education.--Education is rather neglected. Good instructors are wanted. Number of poor children, 226. Educational fund, $196.

Climate and Diseases.--The climate is mild. The most common diseases are fevers. The only case of longevity with which we are acquainted is that of Shadrach Ellis, a soldier of the Revolution, who died at the age of 80. Other cases of longevity are doubtless to be found in the county.

Face of the Country, Nature of the Soil.--The face of the country is very broken. The soil is various. The brown or mulatto lands prevail, but there is not much red and gray; the latter being porous and subject to washing. Along the margin of the streams there is some alluvium. In the southern portion of the county there is much pine land, through which courses several fine mill-streams. Some of the post-oak lands are very fine.

Productions.--Cotton, corn, wheat, rye, oats, potatoes, &c., are extensively cultivated.

Character of the People.--The people, as a mass, are intelligent and industrious, but are wanting in public spirit.

Roads and Bridges.--Some of these are in good order, while others are sadly neglected.

Value of Town Lots, &c.--The value of town lots is $28,904. Value of stock in trade, $29,300. Money at interest, $73,955.

Name.--Talbot county received its name in honour of Matthew Talbot. This gentleman came from Virginia in 1785, settled in Wilkes, and afterwars moved to Oglethorpe county. His honesty and firmness made him one of the most popular men in Georgia, and his fellow-citizens gave him many proofs of the confidence which they had in his ability and fidelity to represent their interests. In Wilkes, Mr. Talbot was always the man of the people, and for many years was the faithful representative of that county in the State Legislature. Whilst a resident of Oglethorpe he was elected a delegate to the Convention which framed the present Constitution of the State of Georgia. In 1808, he was elected tothe Senatorial branch of the Legislature; and, from 1818 to 1823, was President of the Senate; and, upon the death of Governor Rabun, was ex-officio Governor. In the various departments in which the partiality of his fellow-citizens placed him, he was never known to swerve from his duty. As a member of the Legislature, he invariably had reference to the good of the State. As President of the Senate, his conduct was marked by dignity and impartiality. In private life he was friendly and amiable. His heart was the seat of kindness. He closed his life in Wilkes county on the 17th of September, 1827, in the 60th year of his age.

DUNN-SIMPSON-WILSON. I am interested in corresponding with anyone who is researching Dunns and/or Simpsons in the area of Muscogee and Marion Counties, GA. I am particularly interested in a Thomas Dunn, born GA between 1800-1810 and his wife, Nancy. they were in Butler Co., AL in 1840 where Thomas seems to have died around 1847, and Nancy was head of the house in 1850 with 8 young children. The eldest, Mary Elizabeth Dunn, married a year or two later, George W. Wilson. Thomas may have had a brother (or cousin) Henry Dunn, born 1813, GA, whose wife was Elizabeth. They lived in Muscogee County in the 1840s and were on the 1860 census there. In 1850 they were in Russell Co., AL. All of these people were later in Panola Co., MS, in a small community around McIvor's Creek in the late 1800s. Mrs. Mary R. Laird, 115 Lexington Rd., Bel Air, MD 21014

BATES-REED-WARD. Request any information regarding Asa Bates or especially Caroline Reed, b. 27 Nov 1819 possibly near site of Columbus (Upatoi?), d. 5 Mar 1910 (Girard, AL), buried in Linwood Cemetery. Caroline married Asa 1833-1834. She was mother of Thomas Jefferson Bates, Cpt., CSA, b. 1836, and Ella Antoinette Bates Ward, b. 1858, as well as nine more daughters and two more sons. Marjorie B. Chitwood, P.O. Box 162 Oswichee St., Seale, AL 36875
